Get to know the “special cats”

By Sue Buchholz

We call ourselves a no-kill shelter. We have also heard it referred to as a “limited admission” shelter, which too would be an accurate description. We call ourselves that because we do not euthanize for “space.” In other words, it goes against our policy to kill a healthy, adoptable animal to take in another animal. Ours is not a perfect world, and it is far from a perfect system. However, the problem and solution lies with people being responsible pet owners, not shelters and pounds that continue to kill companion animals by the thousands every day. There are more kill shelters, or open admission shelters and pounds than no-kill ones, although that trend is changing! Yet even so, the problem of pet overpopulation continues to plague the animal welfare world and eat at the soul of our society. It’s a battle we fight every day, and will continue to fight as long as there are animals that are homeless, hungry, sick and injured or the innocent victims of cruel humans.

But just because we are a no-kill shelter does not mean that we do not deal with death, or that we refuse to accept euthanasia under any circumstances. That is simply not true. While we admittedly do all we can to restore health and quality of life, there are times when it simply is beyond our power to do so. If an animal is dangerous, suffering physically, or sometimes even emotionally, to the point where there can be no quality of life or hope of recovery, we have made that difficult decision more times than I care to recall. It is never a decision made lightly, for our convenience, or against the advice of a veterinarian. We have had some miraculous saves and brought thousands out of dark and dangerous places, and those successes we can never get enough of. But there are times when they come to us too late, and the kindest thing we can do is to release them from their pain and suffering.

Now the true feature of this article is about some “special needs” cats living at CDHS. There is no pain or suffering here. These cuddly cuties have no idea they have special needs at all. They just know they love meal time, toys, warm laps and rays of sunshine for basking in. Sounds like every other cat you have ever met, right? Pretty close. The only difference is that these residents carry a common viral infection known as FIV, or Feline Immunodeficiency Virus.

FIV is a virus that attacks a cat's immune system, impairing its ability to fight infections. It is similar to HIV in humans, but it cannot be transmitted to humans or dogs, only other cats. It is spread through bite wounds with infected cats and breeding infected cats. These cats are healthy and happy and we consider them very adoptable, and we have adopted many FIV-positive cats over the years. Potential adopters just need to understand that these kitties must be kept indoors and their health must be monitored closely. We tell people that they can live for many years symptom free, or they can catch a cold that quickly leads to something more serious. That's why their health needs to be monitored very closely and they may need to visit the vet more frequently. That's all. A small price to pay in exchange for the love they have to offer us.

Any animal can become ill or battle medical issues throughout their lifetime. It's part of our responsibility when we bring these companions into our home – a promise to provide them a home for the rest of their lives. Our FIV “frat club,” as we call it, includes the impressive lineup known as XL, Carrot Top, Les Nessman, Inigo Montoya, Spudz, Beemer, Hendrix, Barnacle, Barley and a pretty girl named Eva. We ask you to consider a special needs cat the next time you are thinking of adopting. The difficult part would be deciding which one!

Young Professionals Network Chill 'n Bowl raises money for CDHS

The Young Professionals Network has adopted CDHS as their nonprofit for the year and recently held a bowling and chili-feed fundraiser to raise money for the shelter. The Chill 'n Bowl was a great time for YPN members and they raised more than $2000 for CDHS. The event attracted 26 teams and was a sell out! Thank you so much for your dedication to our community and to helping!

Cathie Thill, secretary for the CDHS Board of Directors, accepts a donation check from the Young Professionals Network. YPN members raised more than $2000 for the shelter during their Chill 'n Bowl fundraiser. A necessary purchase

By Sue Buchholz, Shelter Director

It dawned on me that I must be a true North Dakotan, because I usually begin my musings with observations about the weather. Ok, why try to teach an old dog a new trick, although that is a myth we could discuss another time!

So, with our much anticipated spring thaw after a particularly long and brutal winter, a new issue cropped up for us here at the shelter. We face each day with new challenges and constant requests to help animals in one way or another. That's pretty standard. But with the warming earth came a new problem – a flooded basement in our storage house.

For the old timers with good memories you may recall that of the four buildings on our current property, the former basement house was gutted and we use it for much needed storage. And if you have ever been a part of our annual rummage sale, you know that this space is vital. Well, the last month has been the last straw for that tired old building. While our sights and efforts are on a new facility on our new land, the reality is that we will be in this location for an undetermined amount of time. We discussed our options and have decided to build a 30 x 50 Eagle Rigid Span building. The plan is to place it directly to the South of the current dog building, so we will still have parking lot access plus keep the buildings closer together. It should meet our needs nicely, for rummage sale donations, plus kennels and other event items we need under cover.

We are a long ways from deciding if this property will eventually be sold, or be kept and used in another capacity. We have discussed keeping it and using the dog building for either a quarantine/new incoming dog facility or possibly another purpose. Either way we feel that enhancing this property and maintaining what we currently have is always good business. So if you notice some construction happening at our property north of Mandan, that's what is going on. Our plans for our Yegan Road property continue to move forward. The basement house eventually will be demolished and filled in. And I, for one, will NOT miss those concrete steps!

Thanks to our community

Kupper Subaru recently presented CDHS with a check for $3,716.46. The proceeds came from their promotion that offered new car buyers to select a charity of their choice. What a great way to support the community!

The American Breed Motorcycle Club recently visited the shelter and presented us with a $500 check. Thank you so much!

Tough Decisions

By Cameo Skager, CDHS Board President

As you may have noticed our shelter hours on Saturdays have changed. Instead of being open until 6 p.m., we are now open until 4 p.m. The decision to make this change came from a two-pronged idea: 1) Many people wrap up their day volunteering at the shelter by around 4 pm – especially in the winter, and 2) We have been struggling to find enough employees to fulfill our daily needs.

CDHS, just like most other businesses in the Bis-Man area – indeed, even in most of North Dakota – has been struggling with finding enough employees to take care of everything that needs doing at the shelter. We've discussed and brainstormed all kinds of ideas to take care of the problem, and let's just say there is no easy solution.

Our full-time employees were already maxing out their hours and going into overtime in order to get everything done for our pets. Closing a bit earlier on Saturdays helped to eliminate some of those overtime hours, and allowed us to raise our pay rates so that we could try to be competitive with the local job market.

We continue to struggle with finding people who want to work at the shelter. The work may be hard at times, but if someone loves animals, the perks are endless – amazing coworkers, tail wags, kitty purrs, head butts, whisker rubs and happy smiles (from pets and people). And there's always going home with the satisfaction of a job well done. You saved animals, you gave people a chance to find happiness with a new family member, you provided an outlet for community members who find joy in volunteering and you helped your community solve the problem of homeless animals.

We are so incredibly blessed to have the most amazing staff anyone can ask for. Our staff members work with their brains and their hearts. They are diligent and reliable and never fail to do all they can to take care of our pets. They are, without a doubt, the reason that our critters are able to make the transition from being abandoned, homeless and oftentimes injured to moving into forever homes and being loving, lifetime family pets.

Our staff does more than just show up. Of course they do their daily work, but they also send a little bit of their heart out the door with each of the animals adopted. And yet, they still have more heart to give while they continue caring for those living at the shelter.

A sincere thank you to our wonderful staff: Carrie S., Cheri, Mandy, Kaysi, Sue, Caroline, Chris, Carrie K., Tana, Michael, Kristie, Marcia, Tami, Nicole and Shelly.

If you have a desire to join them and do great things for pets and people, give us a call.

Tours & Thanks & Things

- ✔ Mrs. Leingang's third-grade from Solheim Elementary School toured CDHS. They brought kitty litter, treats, toys and other miscellaneous supplies for us. They also sang to Papa – "Happy Birthday," to which he bobbed up and down, and "Twinkle, Twinkle Little Star," to which he jived and tried to line dance.
- ✔ Marisa Vincent's Brownie Troop toured the shelter. Thanks for picking CDHS so you can learn about all our critters!
- ✔ Thank you to the North Dakota Heritage Center making CDHS the beneficiary of their ice cream social. We received donations of supplies and cash for our animals. Be sure to take a day and go visit the newly opened Heritage Center sometime soon. (When you aren't visiting our animals, of course!)
- ✔ Thank you to the Fort Lincoln Elementary School Student Council from grades 3, 4 and 5 (supervised by Ms. Annette Deforest and Mrs. Jean Schafer). They held a bake sale in March and raised $300 selling baked goods made by the student council and their parents. Whoo Hoo!!!
- ✔ Thank you to Leif James Lahtinen for his kind letter and donation. It's amazing to receive money from an eight-year-old who appreciates what you do.
- ✔ Yahoo for the Highland Acres third grade, who raised more than $280 for the shelter. Wow!!!
- ✔ Hurray for Payton Marsh, Aysia Mettler and Caleb Schmidt who picked CDHS for their "random act of kindness." These Lewis and Clark fourth-graders are an awesome group!
- ✔ Ella Larson is an outstanding 10-year-old. She raised $150 by handing flyers with CDHS needs listed on them. She is also working to start an aluminum can collection at her school. Our future looks bright.
- ✔ Ellie Breuer raised money for the shelter by reading. She is from

Paw-some Volunteer - TJ Jerke

By Mandy Schaaf

TJ Jerke has been volunteering with CDHS for about a year. He moved to Bismarck and immediately got on board 100 percent to help our shelter and organization with whatever he could fit into his schedule. TJ walks dogs on Saturdays at CDHS and says he "helps with events at CDHS." I think he does quite a lot more than that! TJ is part of the Young Professionals Network and has been instrumental in spreading our message and mission here at CDHS. He has been responsible for cultivating a great partnership between YPN and CDHS and is always ready to help with whatever project I am working on. I think the things I enjoy most about TJ are his enthusiasm, positive attitude and that he is just a joy to work with! He always has a smile on his face, has a friendly word for everyone he works with and makes any assignment fun. It seems like where TJ is, that's where the party is!

When I asked TJ what his favorite thing is about the shelter or volunteering his answer was, "Since I didn't have any pets growing up, and I currently live in an apartment, the shelter is my outlet to enjoy the furry critters I never had, and don't have the opportunity to have right now. It also provides a wonderful opportunity to give back to the animals that need as much tender love and care as anyone else." TJ said he can't choose a favorite shelter animal because, "I enjoy every animal that walks me, and shows me what it means to live like the gate's wide open."

He encourages others to volunteer at CDHS and says to anyone looking at volunteering, "Do it. Spend one hour volunteering and you will be hooked. I first took the dog-walking class, and immediately felt comfortable around the shelter and staff, which has made it easy to go back every week. The more I continue to volunteer, the more I've been able to get to know the staff and volunteers."

CDHS is very lucky TJ found his way to our organization and we sure hope he sticks around for a very long while.

Bene-Pet 2014 – Royal Fur Ball – was a Royal Success in every way! CDHS raised more than $41,000 with games of chance, the live and silent auction and ticket sales – more than we have ever raised. Wow!

Recognizing Volunteers

CDHS is truly a volunteer driven organization and the talents and skills our dedicated volunteers possess surely surpass any other non-profit in the kingdom! There's nothing our volunteers won't do and all we have to do is ask. During our event we recognized those dedicated volunteers that have devoted 100 hours of their time including those that provide consistent companionship and ongoing canine & feline development: Tami Charvat, Barb Grauman, Lindsey Milliken, Janice Graham, Mary Jo Sogge, and Darrell Njos; volunteer assistance resulting in cost savings to the shelter: Karen & Mike Holman, Fran and Cathie Thill, and Rita O'Neill; volunteer assistance from a staff member: Tana Pendergast; fund raising: Dan Lyons; the Bene-Pet solicitation team: Cindy Rohrick, Linda Roehrich, Shelly Kohler, Julie Schirado, and Amy Rask; promotion of CDHS animals through photography and presentation: Jolene Podoll, Paige Mattson, and Kiel & Cameo Skager; the canister collection team: Sandy Gugel, Janelle Henninger, Camie O'Connor, Bertha O'Connor, and Eric Henninger.

Award Winners

We recognized our Shining Star award, which is given to young people who have distinguished themselves on behalf of the animals. This year's award went to Anna Nelson. Anna started volunteering as a Critter Companion at CDHS last November and made her maturity and presence of mind known during an incident when one of our shy dogs slipped his collar. I was very impressed!

Anna has continued to impress us with a level of maturity beyond her 13 years. Anna has made a positive impact on both animals and humans with her kindness, maturity and gentle nature.

Our Volunteer of the year for 2014 was Bob Guler, who has done the work of an entire army this past year at CDHS. Bob has been working with CDHS for at least eight years and we all remember one of his first jobs was to rebuild a door in the lobby when Sweetie the greyhound broke it to pieces. One of his most recent impressive conquests was building all new doors for our outdoor kennels last fall – even though every time he hammered a nail, the whole building shifted slightly. Bob has helped with everything from planting posts in the blazing heat to hauling mountains of merchandise for the rummage sale. Bob "lovingly" calls our office manager Carrie a "slave driver," because she always has just one more thing for him to do. We sure appreciate all Bob has done to keep our castle in order!

Sue Buchholz, shelter director, has been helping pets and people at CDHS for the past 20 years. CDHS board president, Cameo Skager, proudly presented Sue with a print that she had admired. Sue also received a watch to commemorate her 20-year anniversary. And, of course, she always receives the unending appreciation of the board, staff, volunteers and the animals, too.

The President's Award was shared by Anne Jorgenson Green and Charlene Seifert. These ladies have done amazing work in getting our new building project off the ground, and continue to be a driving force behind all the phone calls, research and guidance we need to keep moving forward. They are both board members and dedicated volunteers who continue to help CDHS in all capacities. Thank goodness they are on our team!

Our final award brought a tear to many an eye the evening of Bene-Pet. We recognized 10-year-old Toshia Two Bear Day. We first met Toshia through an email from a veterinarian named Dr. Lisa who had been donating spays and neuters in Fort Yates through a program put on by the Humane Society of the United States. One day, Toshia walked in with a "broken kitten." Dr. Lisa performed the needed limb amputation, and to complete that happy story, one of the volunteers at the clinic offered to give the kitten a home.

Dr. Lisa went with Toshia to ask her grandmother to officially sign the kitten over – and that's when Dr. Lisa met the rest of Toshia's rescued critters, five adult dogs and eight puppies. Toshia had made a home for them under her porch, provided them with shade and clean water, and talked relatives into buying food for them. They were happy as could be, but their situation could not last because Toshia was going away to boarding school soon, and she was very concerned about the fate of her lost wards. Dr. Lisa couldn't forget the plight of those thirteen dogs either so she contacted CDHS for help. Fortunately, CDHS had room in the shelter and Sue and several volunteers picked up the dogs and puppies. Unfortunately, Toshia was not able to attend Bene-Pet because she was busy with her boarding school obligations. We honored Toshia and were able to see the results of her efforts as 10 of the 13 dogs and puppies were able to join us briefly that magical evening of Bene-Pet. It is truly amazing to see the results and the love in so many lives (both human and canine) because of the efforts of one little 10-year-old-girl.

Tails of Success

Champ

We are grateful that Champ (formerly Johann) found his way to our family. He is such a gentle giant and is loved by all of us. His favorite game is fetch and he has a nice big yard to play in. When he's not playing fetch he loves to snuggle and have his belly rubbed. Champ is allowed all over the house and is a very good boy. He is very good with our grandchildren and other dogs. What a blessing he is!

- Sue H

Snaffy

Here is Snaffy (formerly Scarlett) resting. Oh, what a spoiled Kitty and a fuzz ball. You think she has a good life? She's probably watching Sasha the dog and thinking..... nah nah nah, can't get me!

- Deb

Armani

Hey, finally getting around to updating you on Armani. She has settled in really well here. I affectionately call her "brat" because she has some naughty habits. She is tolerated by my husband mainly because I love her. She licks him which he finds annoying, but she rarely licks me. The kids love her and she definitely keeps us safe. We have to be careful when someone comes to the door, because she nips first and asks questions later. I definitely feel safe walking her after dark. She doesn't jump our fence, but will jump against the door when she wants to come in and reaches her paws and head up to take food left on the counter or table if no one is paying attention. She kennels at night without being told (her kennel is in the room of one of our sons) and is comfortable enough to be left out of her kennel for short periods now when no one is home. She was definitely an anxious girl when she first came and still exhibits some of that if I am sick or out of town. She knows "wait," "come," "sit," and "shake," and is working on some others. My adult brother wrestles with her when he visits and she loves it. Her favorite place is on a bed. No blanket left lying on the floor is safe, either. I can't tie fleece blankets on the floor when she is around; I push her off and she creeps right back on. Thank you so much for letting her be ours! :-)

- Angela

Katie and Kalina

Dear Paws Lovers!

I am so blessed to have been chosen, not once, but twice at CDHS. Katie Cuddles (formerly Sterling) and Kalina have bonded with me and with each other. They keep me entertained. Both have been exploring my house, enjoying all the windows and the closets. The laundry chute provides a fun sliding activity for Kalina. And they are such good helpers when it comes to household chores. All blankets are carefully inspected and kitty approved!

Katie and Kalina groom each other every now and then. They have figured out the sound of the garage door opening. They now know that means I am home. I am greeted every evening at the door by them. On a downside, Kalina has been waking me up at 2:30 a.m. every morning... she needs some attention. I try to ignore her, she then 'washes' my forehead until I pet her and talk to her a little bit. I am hoping this is just a phase!

Life at my house is purrrfect!

- Dolly, Katie & Kalina

Clyde

I thought I'd send an update about Mr. Ethan Hunt, who is now our Clyde. I got your quick note and figured maybe you needed an update and some photos.

Clyde is spoiled rotten just like his siblings and he doesn't seem to mind. He's the annoying little brother to our dog and other older tortie female cat, Sophie. She believes the world revolves around her and should always include a fluffy blanket and a lap. Clyde, however, thinks it should be all about him, the little fuzzy mice and playing.

Clyde fits in perfectly and we love him! Thanks so much for allowing us to find him. Here are a few pictures of the little turkey.
- Kayla

Tig

Since joining our family on Friday, Tig has come out of his shell. He is not the insecure puppy we had been visiting, but has become very comfortable, happy and completely playful. Tig was puppy pad and outside trained in two days and now has the run of the house. He has become the "Kissing Bandit."

When you are sitting on the couch he comes flying into the room, gives you a quick smooch and takes off just as quickly. We have had so much fun with him in the short time he has been home with us. Thank you for the wonderful member of our family!
-Jodie

Chutney

Chutney is adjusting to our home extremely well! He is such a loving and playful companion to our older cat and with our kids as well. He loves to sprawl out on the living room floor and bask in the sunlight. He also has a fascination with straws. If there is a straw in a cup, you can guarantee that he will be up there trying to get the straw out. He is a wonderful addition to our family and we couldn't be happier! Thanks so much!

Top 10 reasons for adopting a black pet

Photos by Jolene Podoll

- 1) Black goes with EVERYTHING!
- 2) Black dogs are easy to see in the snow.
- 3) Black cats have more fun. (Another blonde myth dispelled!)
- 4) Walking a black dog makes you look 10 pounds thinner.
- 5) Status symbol. Black pearls are the most costly.
- 6) Games of hide and seek are extra challenging.
- 7) Accessorize, accessorize, accessorize.
- 8) Shiny coats and pearly white teeth are HOT!
- 9) Availability. Patiently waiting NOW at every shelter, in every age bracket and personality you can imagine. No long search!

Black cats and dogs are the least likely to be adopted. Please consider taking an extra look at these sleek, shiny, wonderful creatures. There is nothing unlucky about having your very own animal friend to enjoy life with.
